

Title: The fight against hunger: World unfed

The awful fate of hunger in places both near and far,
A quiet shadow drowns the warm light of the day.
Between wide plains and crowded city streets,
The repeated sorrow, the cry for food.

Dreams leave unfilled, and tummies empty,
Whispers of hunger, unbearable and unsaid.
The once light, hopeful eyes of children are slowly fading.
As the hold of hunger becomes stronger.

The world continues changing, its wealth unbalanced.
While the pain of hunger breaks the few.
However, a light still glows in our hearts.
To restore the earth, where hunger yearns.

Let's join together, hands extended.
To nurture those who are in grieve and starving.
Because we found that every act of kindness
Is a ray of hope for all people.

Therefore, allow us to withstand the pain of hunger.
With this genuine light of love, drive-off despair.
Because in the fight against hunger, we notice,
The real test of our humanity.
